(Tom Watson) 2.50 Kirby Tells More About His Deals

With Lumber and Oil Companies.
Austin, Feb. 2.—At the opening of the investigating committees' proceedings Saturd y morning Representative Jenkins conducted the examination for Mr. Cocke of John H. Kirby. Mr. Kirby explained further about his deals with the Kirby Lumber company and the Houston Oil company. Witness aid he had been informed of Mr. Calhoun, a New York financier, having falled to put up money in October, 1802. Mr. Kirby said he did not know from what source Calhoun had secured money for he Kirby company from January to November, 1802. He said the Kirby company had financed itself from the sale of preferred stock and its own assets. He said that in the spring of 1802 Calhoun wrote up $1.000,000 worth of Houston Oil company stock. He said he had contemplated the selling of $2,500,000 stock in payment of his iumber lands, but that Calhoun had put up with the Kirby Lumber company the stock of the Houston Oil company.

Mr. Kirby told in detail how his securities and money had been manipulated by Calhoun. He said that he wanted to discharge the fiscal agent because he had falled to do his duty. He said he had employed Calhoun without the authority of the board of directors of the Kirby company and he could not get him. Kirby stated he employed alliley to help him out. He said the stock held by Calhoun belonged to the Kirby company and he could not get him. Kirby stated he employed alliley to help him out. He said Calhoun had borrowed money on his own account and could not pay the money. Witness caused laughter by saying that he thought Calhoun was next to Morgan when he first met him, but that was his first trip to New York. He said when Balley got after Calhoun he returned the money within three money within three money within three money in the said some of the stock of the Kirby company was sold to B. F. Mr. Jenkins questioned Kirby about the Bailey fee. He asked why Bailey could not have been paid a straight fee instead of a commission fee for selling the stock.

"I guess he could," was the reply.

Witness said again that Bailey got a cash fee of $15,000 from the Kirby Lumber company and the rest was "a pickup." H also said it was a convenient way of bookkeeping.

Mr. Kirby said the stock of the Senator Senter took up the examination of Kirby. The latter said he practiced law four years, then engaged in railroading and financed a railroad. He was a promoter and was chiefly engaged in the lumber business. He had very few dealings with New York financiers before the organization of the Kirby Lumber company. He said he owner 235,000 of lumber land in east Texas. He said he was a promoter of the Houston Oil company and the Kirby Lumber company, making a total capital of $45,000,000. He hired Calhoun to finance these enterprises.

Thomas and he had a consultation over the settlement of suits and he (Scott) thought that $10,000 would be a good sottlement, as they could cally hold the Waters-Pierce company on one violation of law.

He said Thomas came to him for this consultation, and after it was over Thomas said that he was going to hold out for $25,000 in penalties. "If you can get it that will be so much the better," witness said to Thomas.

Judge Scott said that he did not attend the first conference with Senator Bailey and others over the cases, but he heard about it. "I attended another conference at which Pierce was in attendance and heard Pierce say: "Thomas, you are the only stumbling block in my way in Texas." Witness said Judge Clark took the position that the state's attorneys were entitled to the state's attorneys were entitled to 25 per cent, and his instructions were that the attorneys were entitled o 25 per cent. He said Pierce said: "I will give $13,000, and that is all." Thomas replied that he would not ac-cent it.

Thomas replied that he would not accept it.
Witness said Bailey was not at this conference and he saw him at no other conference. He told about a talk with Bailey, in which the senator said he would do what he could for Pierce, because he believed him to be an honest man. Bailey said he was sure that the Bailey said he was sure that the Waters-Pierce company would obey the law in future and assured him he would see that Pierce did. He said Bailey based his opinion on what Fran-
